Tsubaki manufactures the forestry chains we sell. That means we have complete control of the manufacturing process, so your chain meets the highest standards for quality and reliability.

With nearly a century of chain manufacturing experience, Tsubaki is ready to deliver the roller chains for your application. Rely on our complete line of high-quality, engineered forestry products — chains, sprockets, and bushings — to improve your operation and lower your operating costs.

The Tsubaki Advantage

- Sizes 80 and larger feature patented lube groove bushings that act as an oil reservoir, minimizing pin/bushing wear and extending chain life.
- Unlike other manufacturers who simply apply rust preventing oil, Tsubaki applies a special lubricant to increase wear life.
- Specially heat-treated side plates provide superior protection against wear fatigue cracking in high-speed applications.
- All Tsubaki Sharp Top Chains have straight sidebars for additional strength.
- All Tsubaki Sharp Top Chains can be cut to length to suit your application.
